Comment:

I live right east of I25 at mile marker 79. Two of your proposed lines would either be across the interstate from me, or through my back yard. We all had to go thro the expense of putting in underground electric so we wouldn't have to look at the power lines. Now you want to put in lines twice as big and twice as ugly. My suggestion is to put the lines out east by the railroad tracks.

There are less homes, and people traveling the interstate can enjoy the view of the mountains, and not the power lines.
